

Robert J. “Bob” Toth, Jr., Esq., is the principal of the Law Office of Robert J. Toth, Jr., LLC in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and has been practicing employee benefits law since 1983. Mr. Toth’s practice specializes in the mechanics of retirement plan and related financial product design, administration, and distribution, serving clients in most all of the states and 5 different countries. Bob has a wide range of experiences in long list of national organizations over his 37 years in practice, having published and spoken frequently. He is Fellow of American College of Employee Benefits Counsel; a former partner at Faegre Baker Daniels (now Faegre Drinker); had managed the legal affairs of Lincoln Financial Group’s retirement plan business; and was in-house ERISA counsel at Kellogg Company. He writes on current employee benefits issues at the businessofbenefits.com, where more on his background, publications, and presentations can be found.